The Question of Repealing Sugar Bounty Considered in the Senate.

ACTUAL BUSINESS IS APPROACHED

Senator Hill Desires Open Sessions on the Investigation of the Sugar Trust—A Petition Asking the Establishment of Workshops for the Unemployed Is Presented by Mr. Hoar. Mr. Brewster Defends the Currency with Ringing Eloquence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1. CONSIDERATION of the tariff bill in the senate today was confined to two long speeches on the question of repealing the bounty on sugar. The first of them was by Mr. Henderson, Nebraska, and the second by Mr. Hoar, Kansas. Mr. Henderson spoke for three hours and a half—the core of the argument being that there was a moral obligation on congress to maintain the bounty system established under the McKinley act, and that its maintenance until 1905 (when it is to cease) will insure the home production of all the sugar consumed in the United States, and thus keep here the $315,000,000 a year which, otherwise, would be paid for sugar to foreign countries. He gave notice of an amendment to continue in full force and effect, until July 1, 1905, the provisions of law for the payment of bounty to sugar growers in the United States.

Mr. Hoar spoke for over three hours in opposition to the duty on sugar and in favor of the continuance of the bounty—arguing that the sugar was a direct tax on the poor man, and that the poor man ought not to be taxed on what he eats or what he wears or on any of the necessities of life. After he closed his speech he took up a number of resolutions presented by Mr. Hoar, Massachusetts, over some of the theories which he had brought forward.

OPEN SESSIONS REFUSED. Mr. Hill's resolution for open sessions of the investigating committee on the connection of the Sugar Trust with the sugar schedule of the tariff bill and Mr. Hoar's resolution to postpone action on the sugar schedule until after the committee shall have reported, were not taken up to-day, but are to be taken up to-morrow, when Mr. Hill is expected to deliver the senate upon them.

Among the petitions presented was one by Mr. Hoar endorsed by many meetings of workmen in New England, and adopted by the New England Industrial League, asking the government to provide for the unemployed where the unemployed may at all times obtain work, and for an amendment to the constitution so as to affirm the right of everyone to be employed. It was referred to the committee on rules.

The house joint resolution in relation to the acquisition of lands in the Gettysburg battlefield having been laid before the senate, Mr. Hill, made an appeal for immediate action upon it. General Slocum said beside him as he stated the facts in the case, including the statement that a trolley railroad company is trying to put down a railroad through the most interesting part of the battlefield.

Mr. Cockrell, Missouri, objected to immediate consideration and the joint resolution remains on the table for the present.

MR. BROUSSEAU ON BANK TAX. Mr. Broussau (Dm., Tenn.), endeavored to side track the bank tax bill by moving to consider bills on the private calendar, but this was defeated. Thereupon the debate on that measure was resumed.

Mr. Broussau (Rep., Penna.), was the first speaker. He opposed the bill. He contended that our national banking system was the best ever known in the country. To disturb it now by repealing the statute imposing 10 per cent. tax on state bank certificates to the end that every state might put in the field competitors of the national banks in supplying currency to the people, would expose us to evils whose extent was beyond human calculation. The return to our ancient state bank system would open the way to a recurrence of the mischiefs incident to that system.

In concluding his speech and referring to our present currency, Mr. Broussau said: "Such a currency would bless any nation which to create and maintain it. On such a currency no statesman should lay his hand in violence. The people of the United States enjoyed the luxury of such a currency for so many years, and it has had so conspicuous an agency in building up the greatness of the Republic, that they will not willingly forego its benefits for any inferior system. They will not initiate the folly of the man who requested this epithet to be engraved upon his tombstone:

"I was well,
I wished to be better,
I took physic,
And here I lie."

A speech was made by Mr. Henderson (Rep., Ill.), against the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax law and by Mr. Swanwick and Tucker (Dm., Va.), and Mr. Dm., S. C.) in favor of repeal. The last named speaker is the successor in the house of Judge Brawley, author of the bill under discussion.

An evening session was held under the rules to consider pension and relief bills.

JOHNSON CONFESSES. The Allentown Murderer Gives the Details of a Shocking Crime.

She sent the girl to him at the stable where he worked. He tried to keep her and drowned her. Johnson said he took her about the waist and threw her into the river at a secluded spot after dark.

SUPREMACY IN COAL LANDS

Grand Jury Finds True Bills Against Iron Mill Officials.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—The grand jury today found a true bill of indictment against Freeman D. Sonerby, Charles H. Baker, Joseph Glading and James H. Eckerty, supreme officers of the supreme governing of the Iron Mill.

They are charged with conspiring and cheating and defrauding the order of funds, and converting $200,000 to the Mutual Banking, Sundry, Trust and Safe Deposit company, and with obstructing the administration of public justice. The date of the offense is fixed in the indictment as May 29, 1892.

THE EXPECTED RESULT.

Lynchers of Purity Are Not Known in Stroudsburg.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., June 1.—The grand jury this morning have examined witnesses who were supposed to have had anything to do with the Purity lynchings. Nothing has developed from their investigations, and they find it impossible to fix the responsibility.

No one seems to have any idea who was in the mob which hung the murderer of Christian Elder.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

R. G. Dun & Co. Take a Cheerful View of the Financial Situation.

NEW YORK, June 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

It is a sign of cheering import that in financial business, represented by clearing and railway tonnage, there has been less license since the strike began than might have been expected. There have been strong hopes this week that the great miners' strike would be terminated by compromise, but an effort to enlist governors as arbitrators has proved fruitless. Executive proclamations in several states are issued to check continued interruptions of traffic and acts of violence, and concerted efforts of operators will now be made to start their mines with new hands.

Meanwhile the consequent interruption of traffic and industry increases. The stoppage of iron furnaces between the Allegheny Mountains and the Mississippi River has become complete. Barren circumstances, and yet payments through all clearing houses for the week show a decrease of only 20.8 per cent compared with last year.

Though a large number of works are idle, the demand for products is not what might be expected either in volume or in urgency. The output of iron and steel has been suddenly and sharply reduced, but the reduced supply seems about as sufficient for the demand as it was a month ago. Sales of small lots of bessemer pig at places as distant as Duluth for transportation to the Carnegie works near Pittsburgh disclose how completely stocks are exhausted and sales for delivery in July and August show a higher price than previously. The 31.50 higher price for the reduced supply of weeks ago, indicates belief that the termination will not soon bring back the old prices.

The output of gold continues, and it is now believed to be due in part to preparation for gold redemption in Austria. The loss of $25,000,000 since May 1 has been made up by the treasury gold to about $77,000,000. Meanwhile the Bank of England holds the largest gold reserve since 1879. At present low prices the movement of grain is not likely to be rapid.

Failures this week have been 185 in the United States against 253 last year and twenty-seven in Canada against twenty-one last year. Only two failures both banking, are for $100,000 or more.

SHACKLED THE GUARD.

Three Kentucky Chain Gang Prisoners Escaped and Are Recaptured.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., June 1.—Charles Smith, Charles Desmond and Frank Brown, members of the chain gang, seized a guard's pistol yesterday and made him give up his keys. They unlocked their shackles and fastened them on the guard.

Taking the guard's shotgun, they chained all the prisoners together, and fled across the river to Ohio. Later Police Jailer Watson of Mayville and a Mayville policeman overtook the men near Aberdeen, O., and forced them to return to Kentucky.

CONDENSED STATE NEWS.

A firebug tried to burn the West Shepards colliery.

The trial list for the Bucks county court next week is the largest for twenty years. Wages of the Schuylkill district miners for this month is 9 per cent. below the $3.50 base.

The State Medical council, which on June 1 will examine 399 applicants, will hold a meeting today at Harrisburg.

The governor has pardoned William B. Hamilton, of Clearfield county, and William Cornely, of Huntington county.

Wear of the world, young Howard Church, Union township, Berks county, shot himself twice and may not recover.

Fireman J. G. Carpenter, of the Lewis and Son railway, whose home is at Hightspire, drank brandy and died.

The superintendent of the water department of the Philadelphia and Reading company, at Pottsville, says the rainfall during May was 14.2 inches.

The Evangelical Medical association, at Allentown, censured State Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer for his stand on the question of non school teachers.

The State Medical council met yesterday afternoon at Harrisburg and agreed not to change the dates for the examinations by the three medical boards as previously designated—June 11, 12, 13 and 14.

The body of the boy found in the river at Bainbridge on Decoration Day has been identified as Thaddeus Barnhart, of Coxtown. The boy has been missing since May 20. It is thought that he fell into the river while catching driftwood.

SITUATION IN COAL LANDS

The Struggle for Supremacy in the Bituminous Regions Continues.

LATE NEWS OF LABOR'S CONFLICT

An Effort Will Be Made to Start Works at Punxsutawney—The Strikers Will Oppose the Importation of Negro Laborers—Agent Who Brought Virginia Colored Men to Mount Pleasant Receives a Rough Reception—Help for the Hungry Miners.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., June 1. MINERS are expecting that an attempt will be made to start one or more of the mines in this district within the next few hours and there is a report in circulation this afternoon that a car load of negroes will arrive some tonight. Should the negroes be brought here to take the strikers place it is more than probable that a conflict will take place as soon as the new men are taken to the mine.

Even the property owners among the miners are as determined that the new men shall not take their places as the Hungarians at Adrain or the Italians at Walton. On Monday an effort will be made to start the mines at Urey, Indiana county, by offering employment to the old employees, but it is not likely that any of them will return to work.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 1.—The arrivals of Merwin White and company and J. Scott and Son, representing the Clearfield coal operators to the request of the miners for a conference have been forwarded to Secretary McBryde of the Mine Workers' union at Columbus, Pa. Governor Pattison professes that they should be given to the public by Secretary McBryde. Nothing has developed here during the day.

AN AGENT LOST HIS WHISKERS.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., June 1.—The agent who brought Virginia negroes to Frick's Standard works yesterday, and a rough experience this afternoon. The wives of the strikers caught him and tore out most of his beard. He finally escaped and came up town only to find a crowd of strikers, who gathered about him and treated him worse. Law abiding people eluded him off to the station where he was kept under cover until train time.

Father Gasparick, pastor of the Slav Catholic church, gave his people two wagon loads of flour today and urged them to stay out. He told them he had received support from them when they were at work and now that they were out of work he would reciprocate.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 1.—The miners' relief committee today gave out to the miners in need near 1,000 sacks of flour. The strikers were further encouraged to hold out longer by receiving money from the hard coal regions and the promises of more after pay-day. They have a soliciting committee at work in the anthracite region.

The leaders are watching with interest the proceedings in the Punxsutawney district, where the operators are building barracks. There is no sign of a break in this region among the miners and no attempt at resumption by the operators.

MOVIE TOWNS SETTLEMENT. CLEVELAND, O., June 1.—President Blair, of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Coal company, of Toledo, has received a dispatch from President McBryde, of the Mine Workers' association, addressed to the committee of Ohio coal operators, declaring the willingness of the miners to confer with the operators of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Mr. Blair agrees with President McBryde that a settlement of the strike in those states would force the operators of Illinois into line and that the Consolidated Coal company would not be able to stop a settlement of the whole strike.

CLEVELAND, O., June 1.—A. G. Blair, of Toledo, president of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Coal company, said last night that he had received a dispatch from President McBryde, of the Mine Workers' union, addressed to the committee of Ohio operators, which he believes opens the way to a settlement of the strike. All day he declined to show the telegram on the ground that it was addressed to the committee, he said that he declared the willingness of the miners to negotiate with the operators of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

AN EXPERT OPINION.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 1.—D. W. Vane, a coal operator of Pittsburgh, is stopping at the Wellington. He is of the opinion that the miners' strike will never be settled by any agreement between the operators and men. The object of the miners' leaders in inaugurating the strike was to force the mine owners all over the country to recognize the miners' organization. It was not so much a strike for prices as for this principle. The mine owners will never come to an agreement for the reason that such a thing is impossible.

He is of the opinion that the strike will end itself naturally when the men are compelled by their necessities to return to work. In the meantime the strike is the best thing that could have happened to the coal mine owners, for they are getting rid of all their surplus stocks and when they do resume their business will be brisk.

PANA, Ill., June 1.—As the working miners came out of the mine last evening they were met near the premises of the coal companies and threatened by strikers. Serious trouble is again looked for.

DEPUTIES REGARDED WITH DERISION.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 1.—A mob of 1,000 striking miners from the mining camps of Davies county has gathered at Cannellburg, nine miles east of this city, determined to prevent the transportation of coal through this state from the Kentucky fields to the markets north of here, or from local points outside of the state. Two freight trains reached Cannellburg today loaded with coal, and were held up and side tracked.

Sheriff Leming and twenty deputies proceeded to Cannellburg. The miners laughed at this small body of men. Sheriff Leming came to Washington and secured an injunction from the court restraining the miners from interfering with the property of the railroad company. When he got to Cannellburg, the miners met him and the miners refused to allow him to read it.

The miners are orderly and say they will attempt no violence, but will prevent the railroad company from carrying any coal through here as long as it is within their power. Sheriff Leming telegraphed Governor Matthews this evening asking that the militia be called out.

IRON MILLS ARE CLOSED.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 1.—Notices have been sent in the various parts of the Cambria Iron company's mechanical department, stating that one half of the employees would be suspended indefinitely at once. The bessemer steel works and blooming mill have also closed laying off five hundred men.

About fourteen hundred men are employed in the mechanical department, and between six and seven hundred of that number were suspended. But ten men are at work in the machine shop, ten in the smith shop, and the carpenter shop is at a standstill. None of the stone masons are at work. Several of the rail mills and the Gaultier department are running as usual. There are 385 men in the mill, and the rest of the employees are on next Monday morning and the steel works and blooming mill will start later in the week. The cause of the cutting down of the forces in the mechanical department is that no coal can be obtained.

STEPS TOWARD EVICTION.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 1.—The special committee of ten representing the coal operators of the Western Pennsylvania district it is said today will meet next Wednesday for the purpose of making another effort to end the strike. It is thought that this committee will, at their meeting, take decisive steps, but in what direction they will lead, is not clearly outlined. The first step toward evicting strikers to make room for new men was taken yesterday by the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company at their mines along the Plum creek branch.

Two hundred and twenty-five people, living in seventy houses, have been notified to vacate within fifteen days.

THE POINT BREEZE RACES.

Spring Meeting of the Philadelphia Driving Club Continued from Wednesday.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—The spring meeting of the Philadelphia Driving Club was continued today at Point Breeze, and despite the fact that the track was still heavy, the racing was first class and good time was made. The first race up was the unfinished 2.39 race from Wednesday.

In the first heat today Willis A. was a strong favorite, but the brown mare, Kate, took the heat. The money then went on Kate for the second heat and she won easily, Willis A. winning easily the last heat.

In the 218 class Colonel Owens was a strong favorite. The opening heat was won easily by St. Elmo, but in the next two heats Colonel Owens was first. The judges concluded that Bradley, driver of St. Elmo, was not trying to win and ordered him down to start first in his place. The last heat of the race was a great battle between Colonel Owens and St. Elmo, and the former only won by half a head.

In the 224 class there were eleven starters and six heats were trotted and then darkness put a stop to the struggle before any horse had won three heats. Scranton, Belmont and J. M. D. were strong favorites in the race.

Today was to have been the concluding day of the meeting but owing to yesterday's postponement, the racing will go on tomorrow.

NO TIME WAS WASTED.

Swift Justice Overtakes the Murderer of a Young Girl.

HOME, Tenn., June 1.—Yesterday a negro named Frank Ballard, 18 years old, assaulted Miss Birdie Thomas, a highly respected young lady, while she was returning home from a visit to a neighbor. The brute failed to accomplish his purpose and being frightened by the girl's screams he cut her throat. Just at this time and before he could complete his bloody work some one appeared and he ran away, leaving the girl in a dying condition. The alarm was promptly given.

Armed men took up the trail and ran the murderer to earth this afternoon. Without wasting any time they hanged him to the limb of a tree and riddled his body with bullets.

GREAT FLOODS IN THE WEST

Cities in Colorado and at Points Further North Still Submerged.

THE PLATTE RIVER VERY FAMILIAR

It Displays an Inclination to Enfold the Country for Miles Around in a Moist Embrace—Situation in Pueblo Is Practically Unchanged—Serious Damage All Along the Line.

DENVER, Col., June 1. THE Platte river went out of its banks at 11 o'clock last night and continued to rise until after daylight. Shantytowns suffered the worst, over 500 poor people being made homeless. It is in this particular the most distressing flood in the history of the city. The river is now stationary, and as the rain has ceased, the trouble is probably over.

BOULDER, Colo., June 1.—All the bridges for miles around were carried off by the fearful flood that swept on the cañon above here last night. The loss to property will exceed a half million dollars. The little log built town of Sunset, Copper Rock and 8-line are uninhabited and the buildings generally buried in the debris. Other camps were badly damaged. In this city several houses were swept away and the entire southern portion of the town cut off from the rest of the city. Reports from all the mining camps above, which are means indicate that the work of destruction has been thorough.

PUEBLO STILL SUBMERGED.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 1.—The flood has partly subsided, the water having fallen 15 feet. A few streets are passable for teams. The lowest ground is still under water and it will be over a week before the water can be pumped out. Fountain creek has fallen two feet since 7 o'clock this morning, but as the approaches to the bridges are washed away it is impossible to reach the east side. The list of missing reported so far numbers 32, seventeen of which are nearly positively known to have been drowned.

It is believed that no bodies can be recovered until the sink holes have been pumped out and that the current of the river carried several bodies down stream. There are nearly 20,000 people in this city who have not slept more than three hours in the last seventy-two.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 1.—Further particulars of the flood which destroyed the town of Condon, Wash., are being received. A cloudburst occurred, increasing the already overflowing streams into a torrent, which swept everything before it. Nothing is left except parts of several barges. When the flood was within a half mile of the town it was seen and every one fled to higher land.

BUSINESS BUILT AT MANITOC.

MANITOC, Col., June 1.—Business is practically suspended here, and hundreds of men are working to save their property. The stream from Williams' cañon is rushing over Mineral Water park, leaving great in place of orange trees into a torrent, which swept everything before it. Nothing is left except parts of several barges. When the flood was within a half mile of the town it was seen and every one fled to higher land.

AGAINST INCOME TAX.

New Yorkers Held an Enthusiastic Meeting to Protest.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The business men of New York turned out in great numbers tonight at Carnegie Music hall to protest against the income tax. The platform of the immense hall was thronged with representative citizens, and in the entire assembly tonight was any criticism of the popularity of the income tax, the latter is a doomed measure. Speeches were delivered by a number of prominent business men, all of which were severe denunciations of the proposed income tax.

WILLIE GROWING MODEST.

Declines to Speak the Oratorical Eagle on July 4.

FULTON, Ill., June 1.—Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge has declined the invitation to deliver the oration here July 4, writing that urgent business at Washington and the great distance to Fulton prevents his accepting. Rev. W. R. Norton says these inviting Colonel Breckinridge have seen that his coming would meet with determined opposition.

WILL WELCOME FRYE.

Pittsburg Population Will Heartily Greet the Tramp.

PITTSBURG, June 1.—General Frye's army of the commonwealth, which was scheduled to arrive in Pittsburg today, has cast anchor at Parkersburg, W. Va., and will not reach this city before tomorrow evening.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

It is stated on the best authority that President Cleveland and Secretary Carnegie have been in entire and perfect harmony in all their actions in regard to the tariff bill.

Acting Secretary McAdoo today sent the house investigation committee copies of the letters which passed between him and K. Wallace, the attorney for the reformers and the navy department, which indicate that Secretary Herbert is not only willing, but anxious to have a congressional investigation of the armor plate scandal.

WEATHER FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Forecast for Saturday, July 1, for Eastern Pennsylvania, fair, slightly warmer, northeast winds becoming west. For Western Pennsylvania, fair, preceded by rain in the early morning on the lakes, probably fair and warmer Sunday, northwest winds becoming west.

She had been infatuated with a doctor named Putnam, and when she left home last Saturday, she left a note saying that she had started to join him at Jacksonville, Fla.

She had been visiting the office of a firm of local specialists. Here she met a hanger-on named Brown, who some times assumed the title of doctor. Brown is under arrest, charged with murder.

WEST POINT EXAMINATIONS.

The Annual Commencement Exercises in Progress.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 1.—The annual examinations at the military academy began today. The examinations continue from day to day until finished.

The only exercises that took place today was the escort of the colors and a grand review of the battalion of cadets by the board of visitors this afternoon.

SENSATIONAL DAMAGE SUIT.

The Iron Mountain Road Sued for Effecting a Lode from a Train.

LITTLE ROCK, June 1.—A sensational damage suit against the Iron Mountain Railroad company was filed here yesterday by Miss Cora Moore, the daughter of ex-Secretary of state F. B. Moore. The ground was that she was put off a train as an improper character while riding with her father, he being at the time in another part of the train.

CLUE TO A MURDER MYSTERY.

Alma Walters, a Handsome Woman of Twenty-eight Years, is Arrested on Suspicion.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 1.—Alma Walters, 28 years of age, and rather prettily dressed in appearance was arrested this morning upon telegraphic request from the chief of police of Wellsville, O. The telegram charged the girl with murder. She acknowledged that she formerly resided in Wellsville but says that she has not been there since March 15. She said she had not the slightest idea of why she should be arrested, had no knowledge of any murder, and she certainly had not committed such a crime.

It was ascertained this afternoon that the woman was wanted as an accessory to the murder of Lizzie Ewing, who disappeared mysteriously from her home in Wellsville about a year ago. Last evening workmen opened a trench through the premises where the missing woman resided unearthed the body which was identified by the clothing as Jesse McCroghan, a former lover of the woman, was arrested, charged with the murder.

At the time of the murder Alma Walters was an inmate of the establishment kept by Lizzie Ewing and is said to have quarreled with her over the attentions of McCroghan. McCroghan is 30 years of age and has led a reckless life. His father is a respected, well-to-do lumber merchant.

The Walters woman says her name is Alma Kienard and that her home was at Meadville until 1891.
